

PRE-SHOW TALK

“Obsession”

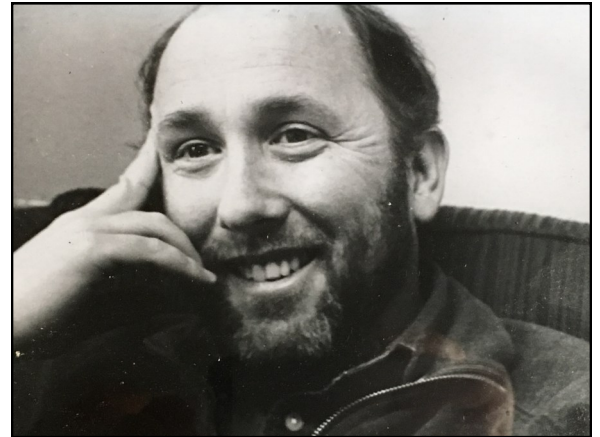

Thursday, September 7, 2017

7:30pm –7:55pm

featuring

Chris Kauffman

Chair and Associate Professor of Theatre
at Gettysburg College

History Has Its Eyes on You - The Revivals of the NTLive Festival

Prof. Chris Kauffman, Chair of Theatre Arts at Gettysburg College, recently took Gettysburg College students to London and taught a seminar on the London Theatre. In this brief pre-show talk he will present an overview of the current trends of theatre in London and provide some context of this year's program to enhance your enjoyment of the NTLive festival.

Biography-Chris Kauffman is the Chair and Associate Professor of Theatre at Gettysburg College where he teaches Acting and Directing. He has directed over twenty productions at Gettysburg since he began teaching here in 2004. He was on staff at the Williamstown Theatre Festival for six seasons and has performed in New York, regionally, and abroad. This year he will direct The School for Lies in the Kline Theatre and King Lear at the Majestic.